The Real Thing in Fall Styles This Year is the Close Shoulder and Snug Coat

That is what the right dressers are wearing in the style centers. These close-fitting coats are a change from the looser hanging styles of the last few seasons, but they have an advantage in giving you a trim, well set up look.

We are in a position to show you both styles, the snug and the looser fashion. It is up to you to choose, but we hope that some of you will take a try at the snug coat. STEIN-BLOCH make the ones we are proudest of.

HAS THRILLING EXPERIENCE

William Evans, who lives with his family at the Twelve-Mile house on the Hamilton road, and is employed by Thomas Dixon in looking after his cattle and horses, met with a most unusual and thrilling experience last Tuesday that resulted quite seriously for him.

With a two-horse team he went to Skelton last week for a load of supplies. On his return Tuesday, when in Railroad valley, about 50 miles from Eureka, he discovered that the supplies in the front end of the wagon were on fire. He made an unsuccessful attempt to extinguish the flames, and while doing so his clothes caught fire and he was compelled to jump from the wagon. In getting out of the wagon he received a bad fall and before he recovered from this and succeeded in putting out the fire in his clothes, he was severely burned on the calf and upper portion of his left leg, and one of his hands is so badly burned that Dr. Roberts, who dressed his wounds, says he may lose several fingers.

When Evans jumped from the wagon the team ran away and the entire load of supplies (nearly a year's provisions) and the wagon were consumed, but the horses soon released themselves and were so badly frightened that they strayed out for the hills.

Evans had to walk several miles before reaching the nearest ranch, where he received such aid to his injuries as could be given him, then he was furnished with a horse. From there he rode to the A. C. Dibble ranch in Diamond valley, where he was given a fresh horse and continued on horseback to Eureka, arriving here early Thursday afternoon. On his arrival here T. Dixon called Dr. Roberts to attend to the case, and Evans is now reported to be getting along as well as could be expected, considering the rough experience he passed through.

The fire that broke out in the load of supplies is said to have been caused by a dollar's worth of matches that were wrapped up in paper and put in a box, instead of being packed for safety in a tin.

Mr. Evans is particularly unfortunate. About a year ago while cleaning out the well at the Twelve-Mile house the rope broke and he was precipitated to the bottom of the well, falling some 40 odd feet and breaking one of his ankles. Before fully recovering from one serious accident he has met with another.—Eureka Sentinel.
